

Institutional Advancement Adds Powell and White to Team

Patrick Powell

John White

The Office of Institutional Advancement (OIA) recently welcomed two new faces who will help increase development, engagement, and philanthropy here at Morehouse School of Medicine (MSM).

Patrick Powell was named the new Assistant Vice President of Volunteer Engagement and Philanthropy. He comes to MSM from the University of Tennessee Foundation where he served most recently as the Chief Development Officer for the Atlanta Regional Office. In his role at MSM, Powell will work to cultivate relationships with external supporters of MSM and its mission. He will serve as a key member of the President's Principal Gifts Team.

Powell obtained his M.B.A. from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, and his B.A. in Communications and Mass Media from the University of Akron.

John White will assume the role of Associate Vice President, Advancement. White previously worked as the Chief Development Officer for Corporate and Foundation Relations at Morehouse College. His responsibilities at MSM will include the overall management of the day-to-day operations in OIA and working with the department's strategic plan and increasing alumni engagement opportunities.

White completed his M.B.A. at Emory University and received his B.A. in Political Science from the University of North Carolina – Greensboro.