

Dr. Anne Gaglioti to Become NCPC Associate Director for Research

Dr. Anne Gaglioti will assume the role of associate director for research at the National Center for Primary Care (NCPC).

Dr. Gaglioti will move forward to oversee the NCPC's research team and portfolio, including Health Services, and Translational and Primary Care Practice Based Research. She will pilot the NCPC's focus on Community Oriented Primary Care (COPC) and the development of clinically related programs that improve access to healthcare and health care research in under-resourced communities.