Who am I in the world? What impact do I have?
How am I affected by my daily experiences of race, gender, power and class?
What is my role in creating peace and justice in our world?

Our lives are continually impacted by the values and beliefs placed by our culture on race, gender identity and class. The intersecting issues that arise from this are woven throughout our relationships, community organizations and movements.

To heal the serious breakdown of care and connection in ourselves and our society, we must make conscious choices in our interactions; choices that break individual and collective silence, choices that support our capacity to collectively create new avenues of trust and understanding.

This training offers tools and opportunities to practice the three leadership realms of the Be Present Empowerment Model®, an inclusive approach to leadership, supports individuals to cross boundaries of race, gender, class, age, identity, religion, and culture, among others. You will learn a process that broadens understanding and builds authentic relationships across the societal divides. We do this work in a diverse context that is highly interactive and includes creativity and play. Children and youth are full participants in partnership with the adults.

In small and large groups, practice bringing your full self, knowledge and creativity to the conversation. Practice using tools for listening that replace assumptions with information. Bridge the gaps between what we know and how we act on our knowledge.

Be a part of creating the kind of lasting transformative change we have been seeking. Come make it a reality...we are the ones we have been waiting for!

Be Present, Inc. is dedicated to building collective leadership for social justice. The Be Present Empowerment Model® supports individuals, families and institutions to build lasting relationships and implement transformative change practices applicable in a broad variety of settings. These include education, health, restorative justice, philanthropy, and public policy, among others.

For more information about Be Present, Inc., and our programs please visit our website: www.BePresent.org call: 404-296-4000 or email info@bepresent.org.

Participants will have an opportunity to create creative expressions of your experiences in this training workshop and share them at the Let's Make a Joyful Noise community-wide performance event on Saturday evening.

SLIDING REGISTRATION FEE SCALE GUIDELINES

We have a commitment to having participants that represent a broad spectrum of our society. It is important that money does not create a barrier to anyone attending the workshop so we created this sliding scale. We do not require participants to pay any set fees based on income or resources. However, we ask that participants pay at the highest rate they possibly can. The guidelines set forth above are not mandatory for determining your fee, they are only offered as a way to put some consciousness around paying what you can.
