

Save the Date!

Advancing Health Equity: Your Genes & Cancer

November 4, 2016
2:00 - 5:00pm

Morehouse School of Medicine
Louis W. Sullivan National Center for Primary Care Auditorium
Atlanta, GA

A new study has found the disparity between breast cancer death rates for black and white women in Atlanta is greater than in any other major U.S. city. Come learn more about advances in cancer research for the Atlanta community.

Featured Keynote Speaker:
Dr. Mary-Claire King, Geneticist and Professor of Genome Sciences at University of Washington who discovered BRCA1.

Host: Dr. Valerie Montgomery Rice,
President and Dean at Morehouse School of Medicine